GADDING ABOUT

i GetAbout is a new mobile travel app, which connects travellers directly to unknown and unusual travel hotspots, giving you instant access to accommodation, tours, travel (air, rail, and road) and must-sees while you're on the go. Connecting travellers directly to many of the most popular destinations and tour operators in the country, as well as letting you in on some of Australia's best kept secrets, this app lists over 10,000 things to do, places to stay and how to get there - from balloon rides to camping trips to alternative outback tours, giving travellers access to experiences they could otherwise overlook. iGetAbout is a free app, available now on the Apple App Store and Android Marketplace.

BYO WI-FI

Any traveller who's loitered for far too long in McDonalds against their will just to send an email to loved ones back home knows how frustratingly scattered available hotspots can be. Those days are over, with the introduction of Samsung's new 4G LTE Mobile Hotspot, which provides a portable Wi-Fi hotspot for up to five computers. Samsung's pocket-sized MiFi hotspot will allow you to stay connected and stay moving, leaving loitering under the golden arches, unless you are craving crispy fries, a thing of the past. Available online for RRP US$269.99.

WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH

Just because you're on a hiking, camping, or sailing trip doesn't mean you still can't rough it in style and this little gadget is the definition of 'flashpacking' for people who really like to get off the beaten track. The rugged Raptor combines an AM/FM/wideband radio, an LED flashlight, an altimeter, a barometer, an alarm clock, an audio-in, a charger for your gadgets, and, of course, a bottle opener - all powered by a solar charger or USB. It's waterproof too. Available online for RRP US$150, don't leave home without it.
